

PRESS RELEASE

Stone Music Festival – Saturday 14th July 2018

Following its success in recent years, Stone Town Council are again organising a free music event in the town on Saturday, 14th July 2018.

With the help of volunteer Tony Hollinshead a full programme of entertainment has been arranged between 11:00am and 9:00pm, including:

- The Local Music Showcase
- Tucano Samba Band
- The Lack of Commitments
- Angels with Dirty Faces, and,
- Live Wires

All this talent will perform on a stage set in the town's Market Square. The local music showcase will feature a combination of young musicians performing a mixture of covers and original songs and local singer songwriters playing original music.

Councillor Jill Hood, Vice-Chairman of the Council's Tourism and Town Promotion Sub-Committee said: "The Stone Music Festival is free, and showcases a wide variety of the town's abundant musical talent. Don't miss what promises to be a fantastic time on Saturday July 14th, beginning at 11:00am! Between acts you can also take time to browse the town's unrivalled selection of independent shops and eateries for a great day out."

More information is available on the music festival Facebook page @stonemusicfestival.
